MEN WANT WORK
AND NOT ALMS,

Outlines His Stand
To State Voters

BY LEN SMALL
Republican Candidate for Governor

Written for The Associated Press
Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Restore prosperity.

That will be the chief task facing the officials chosen by the people in November to manage their government.

Men want work—not charity. Prosperity can be restored by giving work to the man at the bottom.

How can we give work to the men at the bottom and start back on the road to prosperity? Here is my program:

1. Get out of world politics and stay out. Go back to the principles of George Washington: friendly relations with all nations; entangling relations with none. Oppose vigorously cancellation of European debts. Encourage the American businessman to develop his home market first.

Reduce Tax Rate
2. Reduce the Illinois tax rate and increase the balance in the state Treasury. During my former administration the state tax rate was lowered to 30 cents and the Treasury balance increased from $15,000,000 to $40,000,000.

3. Enlarge our good roads program without direct tax on the people, thus providing more work for the laboring man and better highways for all. In my previous term Illinois broke all records in construction and maintenance of good roads at reduced cost.

4. Work for immediate modification of the Volstead act. Repeal the Illinois search and seizure act. Demand ultimate repeal of the prohibition amendment by the states. Breweries would provide work for thousands and Illinois farmers would have a market for grain.

Protect Depositors
5. Give better protection to bank depositors and investors in securities. We must have further amendments to our state banking laws and we must make more effective the double liability of bank stockholders. We need amendments to the state blue sky law to protect investors from swindlers.

6. Relieve the farmer of the heavy tax burden that now oppresses him. Farming is my life work. I know what the farm burden means. The federal government should refund money to farmers, taking mortgages based upon reasonable valuations and asking a low rate of interest. This should be joined with a definite program to find new markets.

7. Land and lot owners need relief by enactment of laws to extend bonds for payment of drainage bonds and special assessment bonds.

To Aid Veterans
8. Let us continue our aid to war veterans. Provide additional equipment as needed for relief of the injured and sick, for proper care of veterans' children and for the aged dependents in soldiers' homes.

Safeguard still further the rights of the laboring people so that they may fully maintain the American standard of living. In keeping with that standard I signed 66 bills endorsed by labor during my term of office.

10. Changing conditions require new methods in management of public utilities. These should result in improved service and reduced rates. During my previous administration, Illinois residents were saved more than $200,000,000 by rate reductions.

11. Enlarge the work of the Department of Health to provide better safeguards for the people. Enlarge our conservation program for protection and development of natural resources. Extend our efforts for improved treatment of the unfortunate persons in state institutions. Illinois residents have saved more than $200,000,000 by rate reductions.

Farm Woman Was Victim Of Burns
Saturday forenoon as Mrs. Clarence Colwell, who resides about six miles northwest of Franklin Grove, was straining gasoline through a filter when the flames enveloped the can and strainer. Mrs. Colwell attempted to carry the flaming can out of the house and succeeded in reaching the summer kitchen when she was forced to drop it. Her forehead and one hand were badly burned and the interior of the house was damaged to some extent, a more serious condition having been averted by the prompt action of Mr. Colwell in extinguishing the flames.

Some Oddities In
From Various Parts
Wire News TodayABSENT MINDED
Canton, Ill., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Business was good with James Wright, second-hand dealer, but it cost him $85 to sell a stove.

Fearing a robbery he put the money in a laundry stove.

Then he sold the stove, forgetting the money. He hurried to the home of the buyer, but all that was left was a few coins. The rest was in ashes.

MUST PAY HUBBY
Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 8.—(AP)—A divorcee has been granted Mrs. Juliette L. Tennant of Highland Park with the stipulation that she pay $40 a week for two years to her former husband, William G. Tennant, one time president of a Chicago financial company, so that he can meet medical bills.

Tennant was said to be ill in a home at Oconomowoc, Wis. Mrs. Tennant, who was awarded custody of three children, testified her husband had deserted her.

FREE FOOD ILLEGED
New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Now it is free food that is against the law.

John Blasi and Jack Walsh heard about it in Magistrate Powell's court. They operate places of refreshment. Part of the refreshment is free lunch—a plate of cheese, some bologna, perhaps some sliced ham, some bread and some crackers.

There is no state law against possessing liquor, as Magistrate Powell pointed out, but there is a law that one can not give away food without a restaurant keeper's license.

That's how it is with Mr. Blasi and Mr. Walsh.

The cases were put over until September 30.

COP IS IN TROUBLE
Chicago, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Policeman John Fry is in trouble because a 73-year-old peddler professes to know his dollars—every one or them.

The peddler is George Karnavals, a seller of individual pies, who was arrested by Policeman Fry the other night because he had no license.

The police found by actual count twenty-five patches on the peddler's trousers as well as $7.56 hidden away in his ragged clothing. Captain Charles McGurn asked him how much money he had.

"I have eleven $500 bills," he replied, "twenty-six $100 bills, six $5 bills, ten $10 bills and three $5 bills and a one."

The captain figured it out. Then he counted the money and found two $500 bills less than Karnavals had claimed.

Captain McGurn then learned he said that Policeman Fry had walked his prisoner to the station instead of the patrol wagon.

He then suspended the policeman pending an investigation.

But whether he is short two $500 bills or not, Karnavals is going back to Greece next week to meet the wife and children he hasn't seen in thirty-eight years.

DIXON LEGION AUXILIARY TO PRESENT SHOWSuccessful Comedy Is To Be Given Soon
By Local Talent

The American Legion Auxiliary will present a three act mystery play at St. Anne's hall on Thursday and Friday evenings, September 15 and 16, "Creeping Shadows" is from the gifted pen of Charles F. Harrison who has written many notable stage successes and as a home talent production this comedy drama is quite out of the ordinary, giving a most absorbing and fascinating plot, as well as rich humor and ridiculous situations. The audience will be thrilled and at the next moment convulsed with laughter.

In this play the local actors have an opportunity to demonstrate their real dramatic ability. Bill Reilly, whose performances have been enjoyed and admired in the past here, shows his versatility by assuming the role of the Negro butler, one of the best comedy parts in any play. Mae Teschendorf is charming as Lettie Hatfield and Mrs. Roy Raffenberg gives a fine characterization as her mother. Willard Moore takes the part of Dr. Walker most completely and forcefully. Mrs. Zephra Cinnamon as Mrs. Walker gives her usual vivacious and delightful interpretation. J. G. Risley takes the role of Major Coleman with fine understanding. Leslie Wadsworth as Tim Ryan does his part with life and vigor, giving a thoroughly enjoyable performance.

These six characters are house guests of Mr. Perkins, done very capably by Frank Lonergan, and they find themselves involved in a series of mysterious robberies. Suspicion points to each of them. There are exciting and suspense scenes, one person struggling another, struggles in the dark and the climax and surprise ending is most dramatic and thrilling.

GEN. ASSEMBLY
HEARS RELIEF
WILL BE COSTLY$36,000,000 Is Estimated Need To Care For Needy In Winter

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Adjournment until next Tuesday was agreed upon by leaders of the House and Senate this morning when less than half of the members who were here for the opening of the special session yesterday answered this morning's roll call.

Although faced with the report of the Emergency Relief Commission that thirty-six million dollars must be raised for this winter's unemployment relief legislation, including both Speaker David Shannahan and Senator Richard J. Barr, expressed grave doubt that any bill for increasing taxes would get enough votes to pass.

No Word From Atlee
Atlee Pomerene, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, who yesterday was invited to come here next Tuesday to tell the legislature why no more federal funds will be available for Illinois relief, had not answered this morning.

A joint resolution was passed inviting Governor Martin F. Connor of Mississippi, who has a speaking engagement in Chicago, Sept. 14, to address the legislature here Sept. 15, on the Mississippi sales tax. Reports here are that the sales tax is working successfully in Mississippi.

Devine On Committee
Adjournment in the House followed the adoption of three resolutions and introduction of several more bills. Two resolutions called on the Highway Division for gasoline tax figures. One by Representative Greene asked a report on highways under contract, to be paid for out of the gasoline tax, and Rep. Devine of Dixon asked for a report on the amount of money gasoline tax would produce on sales up to September 1.

A third motion by Representative Libonati, Chicago, provided for appointment of a committee to wait on Attorney General Carlstrom to inquire of him the constitutionality of the proposed sales tax bills, committee and Roger Little and Libonati were named to head this and other before the special session. Devine were named members.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has already loaned the state $9,000,000 and has indicated that no further loans would be forthcoming until the state and its political subdivisions had exhausted all means of providing relief.

Several of the proposals before the legislators are sales tax bills. Others provided for using funds derived from the state gas tax, together with an increase in the gas tax, for relief purposes.

Of the $36,000,000 estimated as the minimum requirement by the Relief Commission $31,496,000 would be used in Cook county, the report stated. The balance would be expended in downstate counties.

Deer Seen Roaming In Harmon Vicinity
Ex-mayor Frank D. Palmer, while returning home from a motor trip to Walnut yesterday afternoon, stopped his car as he crossed Green river south of Harmon and while viewing the countryside, saw a deer cross the stream and disappear into an adjoining corn field. Surprised at his discovery, Mr. Palmer hesitated for a time and was soon afforded another view of the fine animal as it retraced its course across the stream.

Several residents along Green river have seen the deer during the past two years. Its presence in Marion, Amboy and Hamilton townships has been reported to Conservation Inspector Henry Keister of this city on several occasions and farmers residing in that vicinity have been appealed to in an effort to protect Lee county's lone deer from hunters.

Chicken Thieves Frightened Away
Deputy Sheriff Stoddard Daneakas of Reynolds township was called to a farm south of Rochelle yesterday, where teamsters from one of the Illinois Central depot at Sublette, Mo., poultry thieves are believed to have been frightened away when the farmer began activities in the barn yard about 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Paul Bern Was Under Handicap
The strange suicide of Paul Bern, Hollywood movie executive, produced another mystifying angle today when George G. Clark, Los Angeles life insurance man and Bern's insurance adviser, said here that Bern was married ten years ago and never divorced from a woman who is a mental incompetent in a New York sanatorium.

Clark said that insurance policies held by Bern are payable to a trust fund, handled by a New York trust company, for the benefit of the woman.

The insurance men declared that Bern never divorced his first wife and expressed belief that the alibi in the suicide note to his "wrong" done Miss Harlow, his recent bride, had some connection with his alleged marital tangle.

Bern kept a large sum of money with the New York trust company for his incompetent wife's support and payment of insurance policies, the insurance man said.

Clark claimed he was one of the few friends of the film executive who knew of his former marriage. Clark, here, on an insurance convention, will leave today to look after Bern's insurance.

Brother Of the Dead Man Confers With His Actress Widow
Los Angeles, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A conference between Jean Harlow platinum blonde screen actress and Henry Bern, New Rochelle, N. Y., ended at 1 A. M., today without a statement concerning the apparent suicide of Paul Bern, husband of the actress and brother of Henry.

Bern, who arrived by airplane late last night after a dash across the continent, said there would be a statement "soon enough." He expressed a desire to confer first with relatives.

From the airport, Bern went directly to the home of Miss Harlow. Their conference was unattended by any other relatives, friends or police officers who have been investigating the death of the 42-year-old film executive, who was found dead in his home Monday with a bullet wound in his head, a discharged pistol in his hand and nearby a note signed "Paul" addressed to "dearest dear" and confessing a "frightful wrong."

Bern was given medical and police records of the case, together with personal effects of his dead brother, before leaving the conference. He said he wished to study the records.

It is my wish to confer with relatives here and in New York before agreeing to a statement of any kind," Bern said.

"I am simply a man come to the funeral of his brother. There will be a statement made soon enough. I want no secrecy veiling the matter of my brother's death. He would not have it that way in life. I wish to do as he would have done. He never had secrets from anyone."

Bern was to be one of the witnesses at the inquest scheduled to be held later today. Miss Harlow, who married the film executive two months ago, was subpoenaed but on the report of her physician that she was in no condition to attend, was excused by Coroner Frank A. Nance.

Other witnesses will include Marino Bello, Miss Harlow's stepfather; Irving Thalberg, studio official; John Carmichael and his wife, Winifred, domestic help of Paul Bern; Clifford Davis, garden at the Bern estate; Harold Garrison, Bern's chauffeur; Blanche Williams, Miss Harlow's maid; M. E. Greenwood, studio executive and police.

Under Physical Handicap
Studio officials said they expect the findings of Autopsy Surgeon Frank Webb to remove all mystery surrounding the death. They stated the physical condition of Bern was an all-important factor in the tragedy.

In a long distance telephone conversation with Louis B. Mayer, head of the studio where both Bern and Miss Harlow worked, Dr. Edward B. Jones, Bern's personal physician, said he "understood the motive."

RIVAL MINERS'
UNIONS BATTLE
FOR CONTRACTSBig Mine Operators Of State Will Not Recognize Prog's.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The battle for contracts was underway today.

The Progressive Miners of America, a coal diggers union formed by a number of locals formerly allied with the United Mine Workers of America, were seeking to increase the number of working agreements it holds with mine operators willing to pay the basic wage scale of $6.10 a day.

And the United Mine Workers of America, aided by the Illinois Coal Operators Association, was seeking to hold in line all operators which heretofore have done business with the older union.

The Progressive Miners Union yesterday claimed it had signed twelve operators to working agreements. Most of these operators, they said, had mines in the Bellevue subdistrict.

The new union met with reverses in the Peoria sub-district, however, when representatives of all the union mine operators there met with the United Mine Workers' officials and then adopted a resolution in which they stated their refusal to recognize the new organization and made known their intention to abide by the reduced wage compact.

Some Work Stopped
Members of the Progressive Miners Union residing in the Peoria sub-district scored a victory for their organization when they caused a cessation of work at Wilmington.

But while the Peoria miners were closing the Wilmington miners, locals in Peoria county, which have protested against the reduced wage scale, voted to return to work. Three large mines in that county planned to be in full operation today.

In answer to a statement from the Illinois Coal Operators' Association that it would not recognize the new union the Progressive Miners issued the following statement:

"No operators' association can ignore us. They will either have to contract with us or use strike breakers."

"We estimate that we have 90 per cent of the Illinois miners with us. * * * Some members of the Illinois Operators Association already have signed agreements with us."

The Progressive Miners said they did not expect "to get the big fellows yet, but the smaller operators are both willing and anxious to get back to work and will sign up."

Advertising Of Great Value To Financial World

New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The importance of advertising to finance was stressed today by Francis H. Sisson, incoming president of the American Bankers Association, in an address at a luncheon of the New York financial advertisers.

Mr. Sisson, who is vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Co., said "The difficult conditions through which the financial world has passed in recent years have brought a new challenge to the financial advertiser."

"In no field of business," he added, "is there greater need for vigorous and intelligent advertising policies at present than in finance."

"There are two fields in which publicity can be most profitably employed by bankers at the present time. First, to sell banking service in its various ramifications on the basis of its merit and value to the business community. Second, to spread a better understanding of banking and its functions to the general public."

LEFT SUDDENLY
Detroit, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The pennant-bound New York Yankees today were without the services of their premier slugger, Babe Ruth, who left suddenly for New York last night, explaining to Manager Joe McCarthy in a long distance telephone call that he was ill.

Mark Roth, club secretary, said Ruth told McCarthy, who had remained in Buffalo, N. Y., over the open date, that he had been seized with severe abdominal pains and feared he had appendicitis.

In New York, Roth said, the Babe will be examined and treated by the club physician. In the absence of definite information, neither Roth nor Arthur Fletcher, Yankee coach, would discuss the possibility that the club might have to go into the world series without its famous home run hitter.

Ruth's departure, accompanied by his wife, was so unexpected that neither Roth, nor Fletcher, who were in charge of the team during McCarthy's absence knew of it until an hour and a half later.

CLUB NOT WORRIED
New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Ed Barrow, Business Manager of the New York Yankees, expressed no great concern today over the condition of Babe Ruth.

"No arrangements have been made to meet him coming in from Detroit," he said "Ruth is perfectly capable of taking care of himself and there is no indication that he needs hospital treatment."

"The Babe merely asked permission of Joe McCarthy to come here and see his personal physician, Dr. Edward King, because he felt he might be threatened with appendicitis."

Amboy, Sept. 8.—Word was received in Amboy today of the death of Mrs. Lucia A. Deming, wife of the late Dr. George A. Dr. Deming was a well known dentist in Amboy for more than half a century and passed away October 24, 1923. Mrs. Deming continued to live in Amboy several years after her husband's passing, but her age precluded that and she has since made her home with her son in the east. The remains will arrive in Amboy Saturday and a short funeral service will be held at the chapel at Prairie Repose cemetery, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. GRADUATE NURSE CONVINCED THAT GLY-CAS IS BEST

Mrs. Hausman Says, "Herbal Remedy is Unexcelled for the Treatment of Stomach and Kidney Troubles."

ANNA H. HAUSEMAN

Mrs. Anna H. Hausman, Graduate Nurse of German Hospital in Chicago, Class of 1908, who is active and successful and who now lives at 2901 Julian St., Houston, Texas, after giving Gly-Cas a thorough trial, offered the following:

"I found Gly-Cas to be unexcelled in the treatment of stomach and kidney troubles," she said. "This herbal remedy gives immediate relief, does not gripe or nauseate like other medicines. I also found Gly-Cas to mild in its action, yet very effective. In my experience as a nurse I naturally have seen the action of many different medicines and am thoroughly convinced that Gly-Cas is a medicine of extraordinary merit and worthy of a trial by all sufferers."

Gly-Cas is sold by Campbell's White-Cross Pharmacy, Dixon, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

GEN. ASSEMBLY HEARS RELIEF WILL BE COSTLY

In part: "The estimate has been based on the present low relief standards. The average cost of relief in each Illinois area is less than $24 a month; in areas outside of Chicago the average varies widely but is in all cases much below $24 a month.

"The latest employment data gives no definite indication of any permanent improvement.

"Most Illinois cities are planning private relief drives for the coming fall. As these drives are in most cases planned for October or November, and as the sums raised must be distributed throughout the ensuing twelve months, the amounts actually available prior to March 1, 1933, probably will not be sufficient to offset the seasonal increase in relief needs.

"The commission is insisting that every effort be made to secure a maximum of private funds in each Illinois area, receiving state or federal funds. In a great majority of townships, now receiving state or federal funds, a maximum of anticipation warrants has been issued against the 1932 tax levies, and the proceeds already expended for relief."

Many Bills In the senate and eight bills in the house, introduced by request, providing for an increased gasoline tax, a 2-1-2 per cent increase in property tax, county bond issues without referendum and diversion of part of the gasoline tax, proposals for legislation introduced on the first day of the special session were as follows:

SENATE BILLS—

By Senator Meents: Provides county boards may issue bonds this afternoon to attend the Ogle county fair.

Graham: Gives cities power to borrow money from Reconstruction Finance Corporation and to hypothecate as security its bonds or tax anticipation warrants.

Michal: Provides $1,000 a day increase in fee of race tracks, to go to emergency fund.

Barbour: Provides for housing corporation to borrow money of the R. F. C. to wipe out slums by construction of modern and sanitary buildings. Creates Housing Commission of seven members, and appropriates $35,000 for expense.

McCauley: Permits use of surplus gas tax fund to pay county employment relief obligations.

Carlson: Provides retail sales tax on all except farm products sold by producers until July 1, 1933, income to be apportioned by state Treasury to several counties according to source, for relief purposes, or if not required for that purpose, for use of schools.

Monroe: Prohibits state from furnishing relief to any able-bodied adult male or family consisting of such persons for more than one week unless such persons have been employed in political subdivision, at 37 1-2 cents an hour.

Barbour: Permits Chicago school board to issue bonds to pay principal and interest on bonds coming due.

House bills fathered by legislators who introduced them were as follows:

O'Keefe: Imposes tax of two per cent of the selling price of any real or personal property or chewing gum.

F. G. Thompson: Permits the counties to use their share of the gas tax for unemployment relief.

insurance. The two men were reported to have appeared in Dixon last evening and attempted to secure sums of money from automobile owners in payment for policies. Manager Hess stated that J. S. Because of the encouraging attendance at the first organization meeting a week ago a large turnout is anticipated for this smoker, which is to include an interesting boxing match, and in general, everything which goes to make such an event a success.

It is hoped that every young man between the ages of 21 and 32 will attend this smoker, which is free of charge.

AUTOPSY SHOWS PAUL BERN WAS UNDER HANDICAP

is in Honolulu, told Mayer. "But I am returning to Los Angeles at once, arriving there Sept. 13, and I shall be glad to give whatever information I have to the proper authorities."

The autopsy report showed Bern was free of disease, but that his physical handicap was one that would prevent a happy marriage. His brother said Bern, although a bachelor until he married Miss Harlow, 21, had another woman in his life previously.

"Paul was not a virtuous man in the conventional sense," said his brother. "But he had a higher virtue. He was good. I am tired of indecent talk about him."

BLONDE "OTHER WOMAN"
New York, Sept. 8.—(AP)—An attractive blonde, about 35 years old, who made her home for nearly ten years at a West 44th Street hotel, but who left there several months ago without giving a forwarding address, was believed today to have been the "other woman" in the life of the late Paul Bern of Hollywood.

She lived at the hotel as "Mrs. Paul Bern." She paid her bills with checks from "Paul Bern" in Hollywood. She seldom left her room, taking all her meals there; and she seemed to have few acquaintances.

Visited Her Yearly
At the hotel today it was said Bern, the film executive whose suicide is now puzzling Hollywood, visited her about once a year, the last visit being in October, 1931. Mrs. Bern left the hotel early last spring, shortly before Bern's marriage to Jean Harlow of the screen. She said she was going to visit friends in Los Angeles.

Very little was known of her despite the fact that she had been a guest of the hotel for a decade. She was said to have had minor roles in stage plays before meeting Bern.

Stories from the west that she suffered from nervous disorder which necessitated sanitarium treatment were received by hotel employees with surprise. They said she showed no signs of nervous indisposition.

You can't afford to be without the Dixon Telegraph's accident insurance, $125 will pay the premium for one year on a $1,000 policy. tf

THE FOREST OF DEAN
THE quiet congregation of the trees
Awoke to a rippled whisper
The light-wind breeze.
Brushed leaf against leaf, softly and delicately fingering
Slender beech and ragged oak leaf; and in the cool shadow
And wavering dapple of tremulous sunlight lingering
As weary of the hot gold glow of the buttercup meadow,
And renewing his strength in the cool green and still shade
Of the forest, deeper and deeper burrowing in
By pathway and trackway and green ridge and arched glade
Over hyacinth and the white starred garlic and curled fern,
And dreaming in some unvisited
haven to win
New life from the growing grass and rejoicing
To sweep from hill to valley, from valley to hill.
The birds were still.
Only far off a cuckoo calling.
Drowsily and perpetually a far-off cuckoo calling.

Birthday Party For Jean Marie

A birthday party was given yesterday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown, for their small daughter, Jean Marie, who was busy celebrating her fifth anniversary. There were twelve little guests present who greatly enjoyed the happy occasion. There were games of many kinds to occupy young active minds and the birthday luncheon met with great approval from all. Pink, orange and yellow decorations, the tempting cake held pink candles, there were pink favors and flowers. Other favors were balloons, much appreciated by the youngsters. At the conclusion of the party the tired, happy group sought their homes, leaving Jean Marie many pretty gifts and best wishes as reminders of her fifth birthday.

Many Entertain For Miss Dillon Who Is Soon to Wed

Miss Margaret Jane Dillon of Sterling, whose wedding Sept. 15th, to Alpheus John Goddard, II, of Lancaster, Pa., will be a most brilliant affair, is being entertained at a series of pre-nuptial parties.
Mrs. A. Rogers Goddard, mother of the groom-to-be, of W. Stephenson street, Freeport, gave a tea and reception Tuesday afternoon to introduce Miss Dillon. There were many in the receiving line including the hostess and her daughter, Miss Katherine Goddard, the bride-elect, and her mother, Mrs. P. W.
Dillon of Sterling and sister, Mrs.
John Bowman of Anaconda, Montana; Mrs. W. M. Dillon, the bride's grandmother, Mr. John Dillon, Mrs.
E. F. Lawrence, Mrs. L. C. Wheeler,
all of Sterling, and many others.
Exquisite flowers adorned the house. Especially beautiful was an arrangement of Japanese anemones and sea lavender (statice) and tall pink tapers on the tea-table, which was spread with a hand-wrought cover first used at Mrs. Goddard's own wedding.
Red rosebuds and other lovely blooms were in the living room.

Pouring the syrup over the fruit or vegetable for several mornings in succession insures a perfect and unbroken pickle but prolongs the time of preparation.

The same general rule can be used for almost any variety of fruit or vegetable. The spices can be varied but the proportions of sugar and vinegar remain the same. The spices are used whole and tied in a small cheesecloth bag if clear, unclouded pickles are wanted. Powdered spices darken the syrup and discolor the fruit.

Sweet Pickling Syrup
1 quart vinegar
4 pounds light brown sugar
1-2 cup whole spices
Break cinnamon into short piec-

A MILLION GOES BEGGING.

It's hard to believe in these days of economic stress that 91,000 depositors in closed banks in Toledo, O., would fail to respond to repeated invitations of "Please come and get your money," but such is the case.

The story goes this way:

Officials of the state's banking department are straightening out the affairs of several defunct banks and calling on depositors to come and get certain percentages of their money that are now ready to be repaid. Lots of depositors have done so. But 91,000 depositors who have $1,249,000 to their credit on the books and for whom $279,000 is now ready for immediate distribution have—for some reason—not accepted the invitation.

That approximately 40,000 of these accounts are those of school children who deposited their pennies and dimes in school savings systems, explains something, but not everything. Why have the other 1,000 depositors not come forward to claim their money? Frankly nobody knows.

Perhaps these are people who have deposited money in banks years ago and forgotten all about it. Perhaps there are others who have opened secret bank accounts without mentioning the same to relatives, and have died and have left deposits that have no claimants.

Certainly it is difficult to believe that anyone would deliberately ignore an invitation from a defunct bank to come forward and recover his money, or a part of it. Unless these deposits are claimed by the time liquidation of the banks is completed, the money will be placed in the state treasury. There, it will be held for a certain period of time and, if still unclaimed, it will be given to the state's general fund. The law provides this course.

In a nation that has seen 2500 bank failures during the past few years, many of them bringing disaster to unfortunate depositors, Toledo's experience is most certainly a rare one.

But one can't escape the conclusion that if the depositors—with the exception of the school children—are so careless and indifferent toward their money, then perhaps it's just as well that the state should have it where it can be used to help lighten the load on the already overburdened taxpayers.

MISS DIDRIKSON'S NEW VICTORY.

Babe Didrikson, the amazing 19-year-old Texas girl who is called "the world's most versatile woman athlete," has won again. She can now sign her name on the dotted line—and the signature will be valid.

It required a special court order for the young Olympic champion to win this new victory. There was no gallery and no cheering as there usually is when she is in action. Her father was there to say it was all right with him and her coach testified that Babe is thoroughly capable to transact business affairs.

At the Olympics, Miss Didrikson won first place in two events and equaled the winner's mark in a third. She wanted to compete in five events instead of three, but that wasn't allowed. Besides running, jumping and throwing the javelin she likes to swim, play golf, hurl the discus and take part in other sports, usually winning against competitors. If there is a young woman in the country qualified for independence is would seem to be Miss Didrikson.

Still there were legal hurdles in the way. True to past performance, she took them, just as she takes wooden hurdles in a track meet. Now Babe's her own boss.

AN UNSUNG HERO.

Gray Carroll, a Tulsa, Okla., lawyer who died the other day, was one of the unsung heroes of the modern age.

Twenty-two years ago, Mr. Carroll, then a struggling lawyer, found himself in debt to the extent of $25,000. His assets consisted principally of a willingness to work, which few people seemed likely to use.

But there lies the story. Mr. Carroll worked and saved for nearly 20 years. On May 31, 1928, he gave a dinner for 125 of his friends.

"Every cent is paid. I am happy," he told them. He paid every penny to his creditors, with interest at 6 per cent. One $500 debt amounted to $1500 at the time of his payment. He paid back $50,000 in all.

And if any man was ever entitled to happiness, Mr. Carroll was that man.

Some of us who are not quite so cheerful as we might be would do well to consider his case.

The slums of tomorrow are still being built today, because we have left this field of low-cost housing to the rugged individualism of the speculator.—Robert D. Kohn, ex-president, American Institute of Architects.

I have but one desire—to see my country again on the road to prosperity.—Herbert Hoover, president of the United States.

If she (Mrs. Rudy) wants to throw mud, I suppose there's nothing I can do to stop her.—Rudy Vallee, crooner.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

At last the Tinymites were set to ride away. One said, "I'll bet that something's going to happen while we're up in the air."

"The blockheads said we'd float around among white clouds, safe and sound, but being away up here's enough to give us all a scare."

Then Scouty answered, "Oh, sit still, or you will make us take a spill. We always seek adventure and that's what we're going to get. Of course we don't know where we're bound, but some fine place soon may be found. Why start to worry now, when nothing's really happened yet?"

The basket then began to shake until it seemed that it would break. The blockhead at the startop shouted, "Good bye, Tinymites."

"We hope you'll come again some day, when we all have more time to play. Good luck on your new journey. You will see a lot of sights."

The basket then moved, sure, but slow, and Duncy shouted, "Here we go! I hope a little breeze picks up so we can gain some speed."

"I'm wondering why we stay in air, but here we are, so I don't care. To make me feel real comfortable, a snooze is all I need."

Just then they started rising fast, right through some clouds, until at last they saw some stars above them and wee Windy said, "It's night. Perhaps it's raining down below. We are so high we cannot know. The stars are very brilliant and they give us lots of light."

A little star then came nearby and shouted, "Lasso me! I'll try to take you for a speedy ride through the open air."

Said Scouty "Don't take us too far." And then he roped the shooting star. They started moving very fast which gave them all a scare.

(The Tinies meet with accident in the next story.)

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By WILLIAM E. GILROY

The study of the vicissitudes and wanderings of the people of Israel in ancient days would have no great value and interest for us beyond the records of any other people or phase of history were it not that these records contain much that is symbolic of the problems of progress for humanity in almost every phase of life.

The individual reads the story of the progress of the people from the bondage of Egypt to the Promised Land and he finds in the record an illustration of what is going on in his own life. Much of his effort, if he be a man of earnestness and vision, is concerned with progress.

Whatever his condition, he is always better and he finds pathway of progress beset with obstacles and difficulties. These are foes that must be overcome both within and without.

The same thing is true of every phase of social and religious progress, churches and groups of people have definite goals very clearly set before them, and in their efforts to attain those goals their experiences are very much like those of the children of Israel wandering in the wilderness and marching to the Promised Land. In all social endeavor symbolism of the wilderness and the Promised Land becomes very significant and strongly emphasized in constant references.

Even today we refer to a great and conspicuous leader as Moses, and we refer to the goal of some social hope as the Promised Land.

Then, there is a further symbolism which, both in relation to the individual and to society, relates to progress toward the unknown. Life itself is a pilgrimage in which we are journeying to the Promised Land of a life beyond, and thought we have never attained to any very definite conclusions about it, somewhere in our minds there is a strong feeling that society has something of the same end in view, that there is a Promised Land for society that we call the Kingdom of God, for the realization of which on earth we pray but with the consciousness that the answer to our prayers will involve a new meeting of heaven and earth.

It is in the light of all such symbolism that we read the records of the children of Israel.

We must remember that we are reading the story of what happened in a crude age when tribal warfare were keen and relentless though perhaps after no more so than the life and death struggle in which modern nations have been engaged within our own time. However, the crudities of an ancient time were for the most part unrelieved by the pacific and beneficent purpose that in many quarters of the modern world is as evident as the spirit of strife and vengeance.

We must not read these records for a moral revelation of the height and beauty of what we find in the New Testament, or even in the Old Testament, in such portions as the book of Jonah, in which we see the great religious minds of Israel coming to the conception of a mercy and love of

FRANKIE AND JOHNNIE

A BOOK A DAY

MONOCACY CALLED DECISIVE BATTLE OF THE CIVIL WAR

Perhaps you've never heard of the battle of Monocacy, in Maryland, but according to "Fighting for Time," by Glenn H. Worthington, it was the decisive battle of the Civil War.

Making no literary pretensions, the book states its major premise early and then sets out to prove it by quoting from statements of generals, statesmen and the men in the fighting.

In case you don't know, Monocacy was the engagement between General Jubal E. Early's Confederates and General Lew Wallace's slender band which had been sent out to save Washington. Fought in July, 1864, it came as the most important engagement of the last Confederate invasion of Maryland.

The result of the battle, so Worthington tells us, was unimportant. As a matter of fact, Early drove Wallace back in great confusion, took 700 prisoners, and proceeded to the very gate of the nation's capital. The important part was that the battle delayed Early's march for 24 hours and gave Lincoln time to muster forces for the defense of Washington.

But to us, at any rate, the most interesting chapter in the whole book is the one devoted to the diary of a Union soldier captured in the battle. He was imprisoned at Danville, Va., and his picture of life in a Confederate prison is both clearly and painstakingly drawn. If you are interested in history, you will find interesting documents in "Fighting for Time."

DIDN'T FEEL IT

London—A fortnight ago Roland Kirby, 25, was seated under a cliff and a huge boulder fell on him. It required five men to lift it off him. A doctor advised him to have his injuries taken care of. Just recently, more than two weeks after the accident, he was examined and found to have a broken back. He died soon after the examination.

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted".

That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

MAYOR McKEE WIELDS AX IN NEW YORK CITY

Slashes $2,000,000 A Year Off Salaries In His Control

New York, Sept. 7. (AP)—Joseph McKee, mayor for less than a week, pulled today the purse strings of "six years of spending" as he called it, slicing $15,000 a year from his own $40,000 salary and setting a $12,000 a year maximum for other offices under his control.

By these salary slashes and allied economies he said an annual saving of $2,000,000 a year would be effected.

City employees receiving $2,000 a year or less are to be protected in their present incomes, he said. In some cases the pay cut amounts to more than 50 per cent. That is true of the Corporation Counsel and Superintendent of Schools, each of whom now receives $25,000 a year. Dr. William Schroeder, Jr., chairman of the Sanitation Commission and personal physician to former Mayor Walker, will be reduced to $12,000 from his present $22,500.

The heads of the police and fire departments will be reduced to $3,000 a year to get within the maximum.

The city payroll was found to have increased 48 per cent since 1926. General pay increases have been effective since September, 1930. The bill providing for the increases was signed by Mayor Walker on the first day of his second term—the term from which he unexpectedly resigned last week.

The Board of Elections today unanimously received the certification of City Clerk Michael J. Cruise that a vacancy exists for the office of mayor and passed a resolution to make the necessary preparations for election on November 8, to fill the vacancy.

The shortest route between the buyer and seller is via the advertising columns of your newspaper.

Not many years ago a lot of people in moderate circumstances spent much time in living and acting as though they were rich. It often made a great impression on their neighbors. Nowadays everybody seems to be endeavoring to go one better than their neighbors in an effort to tell the world how poor they are. Quite a change!

The secretary of your Chamber of Commerce is a shock absorber for your city.

In order to avoid mental confusion, it would be a good idea not to devote too much time in trying to puzzle out some of the planks in our political platforms.

Many people know through bitter experience how easy it is to get into debt and how difficult it is to get out of it again. Pay as you go is a good habit to get into; that is, if you can.

The business of a city is more complex than any individual business. Therefore, even greater consideration should be given to plans for its future development.

The greatest service given the people by some of our politicians is a lip-service.

All doors are open to courtesy.

There seems to be a great tendency in this country to put government into business and little business into government.

If there is a good plan to help your city, help that plan.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—Within the shadow of the door leading to the office of the President sits a man who for something like 30 years has guarded six chief executives.

He is a gray-haired, genial Irishman by the name of Pat McKenna—a sort of major-domo of the executive offices of the White House. Teddy Roosevelt was President when Pat assumed the duties as official doorkeeper. Taft, Wilson, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover have come along since and Pat is still there at his post outside the President's door, looking over those who come to see the chief executive. They all have to pass him before seeing the President. Cabinet members, diplomats, members of congress and just plain citizens—he eyes them all.

It's up to him to see that the President's daily visitors are presented in their order quickly and with no confusion. Also he must make sure that no one gets in who has no business there.

A Hard Job

It's a pretty tough job at times, too. There are many persons who come to the White House for the first time, perhaps armed with a letter from a senator or congressman back home who think all they have to do to see the President is to open the door and walk in.

Pat has to stop them and tell them differently. Visitors who wish to get a look inside the White House proper must see him as well. He issues the cards necessary to gain admittance at the door of the executive mansion.

He's Met Notables

In the three decades he has been doorkeeper, Pat probably has come in contact with more important persons than any other individual in the world.

His job has been made easier during the Hoover administration because the President has discontinued the daily public noon receptions when thousands flocked to the White House to file by and shake the executive hand.

Those were difficult times for the doorkeeper. Persons were always making foolish requests and unable to understand why they couldn't be granted.

Autograph seekers are probably the worst. Often they absolutely refuse to be sent away. When the case appears hopeless, Pat will take the book or whatever it is and watch for an opportunity to slip in and get the President to sign.

Since the public receptions have been discontinued, however, usually he refuses them point-blank. But he has a smile for them all and some answer for their every request.

"I'm used to them," he says. "It's all in the day's job."

Feeling Badly? Sure! They Can't Get Married

Here's what a couple of elopers look like when the law—and their families—have balked their marriage plans. John Amery, 29-year-old son of L. S. Amery, former British cabinet minister, and Una Wenz, 22-year-old actress, appeared to feel pretty badly about it all when this picture was taken of them in a Paris Cafe. No wonder! First Amery's parents stopped his wedding in London because he was a minor, and then, after the two had run away to Paris, they found that French law required them to wait awhile before they could wed.

DAILY HEALTH

ECZEMA OF THE LEG

There is a type of eruption which affects the leg and which is commonly described as stocking eczema.

This condition derives its name from the fact that the inflammatory condition of the skin is usually confined to the region of the leg from the knee down to the top of the shoe. The condition is usually irritating and chronic.

The patients complain bitterly of this affliction and usually give a history of having tried many remedies without avail. The story of the onset and development of the disease includes the statement that originally there was nothing but a small pimple, which was rubbed, irritated, and which spread.

Most sufferers commence by treating their eczema with some common household ointment, such as sulphur, but despite the treatment the condition spreads, and the spread of the eczema and their suffering usually bring them to the doctor's office. Occasionally the patient reports that the eczema followed a slight injury.

The condition is usually found in persons of the highly irritable or of the placid, lethargic types. There is a strong evidence of there always being a neurotic condition behind the entire picture.

Such patients frequently complain of other nervous affections of the skin; among these itch in other regions of the body is common.

A careful study of the patients also reveals that they are in the habit of scratching the irritated skin; not infrequently they scratch in sleep, rubbing calf against calf or rubbing the toes of one foot on

Engaged to Allan Hoover? "Preposterous!" She Says

Regardless of all rumors you may have heard, there's no truth to the report that Miss Adele Jahneke, daughter of Assistant Secretary of Navy Jahneke, is engaged to Allan Hoover, son of the President. So Miss Jahneke declared in a public statement, in which she called the report "preposterous." The two are shown above.

the calf of the other leg.

The treatment of these cases usually consists in the improvement in the nutrition and personal hygiene of the patients, exposure of the affected skin to air and sunlight, the use of gentle local treatment and preventing the patient from scratching.

To achieve the last it may at times be necessary to dress the patients in flannel stockings, particularly when they retire.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

LUCAS OF REDS REAL CHAMPION GAME FINISHER

Husky Cincinnati Box Artist Completes 27 Of 29 Games

By HUGH S. FULLERTON
Associated Press Sport Writer

Even though the Cubs and the Pirates are keeping the National League pennant race steamed up so that they almost monopolize the fans' attention, there still is time to consider the case of 'Red' Lucas of Cincinnati.

In his seventh season with the Reds, Lucas appears to have reverted to the days when a pitcher was expected to play almost as often as an outfielder and there was no big corps of relief boxmen waiting around ready to go in the minute he showed signs of faltering.

The husky redhead, who has fallen below the 500 mark in games won and lost only once in his six seasons with an unusually weak club, may not repeat in that respect again this year but he seemed certain to lead them all in the matter of finishing what he starts.

Finishes 27 Games

Lucas has started 29 games so far and he has been in there at the end of 27 of them. He ran up a string of 18 complete games in a row, failed twice in a short time in mid-July and since then has made a new string of eight. Unfortunately for his record, he has won only 13 games and lost 15.

Lucas took it on the chin again yesterday although he hurled a fairly good game against the Giants. He had a 5-3 margin in the seventh inning then ran into a home run assault that brought three runs and cost him the victory.

The woes that usually greet the leading clubs of the west when they start their final trip of the season turned up on scheduled time.

Chicago's league-leading Cubs ran into grief in Boston and took a double defeat from the Braves 11 to 4 and 4 to 0.

Pirates Show Lead

The Pirates clipped another full game off Chicago's lead by splitting a two-play program with Brooklyn. They had no trouble winning their eleventh straight game, 8 to 3, as they drove Van Mungo to cover in the first inning of the opener. Fred Heilmach's porridge hurling proved a bit too much in the nightcap and Brooklyn won 4 to 2. Heilmach gave seven hits.

Dizzy Dean, who had won his last four games for St. Louis, also felt the effects of going on the road and lost a 6 to 3 encounter to the Phillies.

There were no American League games scheduled.

DIXON RING CARD
Bill Davis, Dixon vs Herman Rumpke, Rock Island, 147 pounds.

Elwood McKechnie, Dixon vs Bill Guide, Moline, 147 pounds.

Preston Laurette, Marseilles vs Young Scotty, Rock Island, 135 lbs.

George Carlson, Dixon vs Bill Cummins, Marseilles, 118 pounds.

Charles Mazure, Marseilles vs Ty McGee, Rock Island 160 pounds.

Clark Roush, Dixon vs Tony Capone, Freeport 147 pounds.

Featuring four Dixon boys and a trio of Golden Gloves champions the management of the Dixon Athletic club has arranged for a crew of favorites to fight on the Crawford Maples' program this evening at 8:30.

Continuing his ascent to a high position in amateur ranking Bill Davis seeks his fifth straight win in the windup bout meeting Herman Rumpke of Rock Island. Davis is highly regarded by promoters in this section but will receive a real test against Rumpke. An indication of the latter's ability is his recent decision over Kat-Eye Kaktus, a plenty tough customer from LaSalle.

After a two-week layoff Elwood McKechnie returns to find himself matched with "The Patent-Leather Kid" Bill Guide of Moline. "The local "Kid" has whipped Guide twice but the Moline boy claimed a poor physical condition on both performances. McKechnie is another local boy whose name is no stranger to the athletic world as a football star and amateur boxer. Guide was a Gloves winner in Davenport.

Two other Dixon boys, Carlson and Roush, are in the lineup. George Carlson has a formidable obstacle to whip when he enters against Marseilles' Bill Cummins, a great little scrapper. Tony Capone, Freeport's pride, will begin a comeback after a long vacation, being matched with Clark Roush. Ty McGee, Dubuque Golden Champion, fights Charles Mazure of Marseilles at 160.

These are the heaviest boys to appear in the Maples' ring. "Grand" Laurette of Marseilles again tackles youth when he fights Young Scotty, Rock Island. Laurette is a Peoria Golden Gloves winner.

WORLD SERIES CLOSEUPS

JOE SEWELL
He began as a world champion, the plaudits of the crowd bursting around his young head. He may quit the same way, if he wants to, and the applause that greeted his first appearance will mark his departure.

Sunrise on the major league horizon of little Joe Sewell, now of the Yankees, found him in the 1920 world series when, a rookie of less than two months experience in professional baseball, he beat Brooklyn for the championship. Now, 12 years later, his sun is sinking rapidly. Joe is in there to battle for the Yankee cause. It may be his last world series.

Great little ballplayer, this Joe Sewell. The only one cast from an unusual mold! He's just about the loudest guy that ever spit into a fielder's glove, but off the diamond he's almost timid, very quiet.

A combination of three things made him famous. One was a tragedy. Ray Chapman, Cleveland's spectacular shortstop, was killed by a pitched ball a few days before the 1920 world series. A hurried call was made for Joe at New Orleans, where he had been playing since his graduation from the University of Alabama. He was asked to fill the gaping hole in the Tribe infield. He did—for eight years.

His keen eyes gave him another distinction, that of being the hardest fellow to get out at the plate the game has known. In 10 years with Cleveland, he struck out only 89 times. Four of these years he fanned four times, or less, a season. He was, and still is, a 300 hitter, consistent and dependable in the pinches.

Joe's iron physique gave him his other record. He played 1102 consecutive ball games for Cleveland, which stood good as a world record for consecutive games with one club until broken this year by Lou Gehrig.

Nine o'clock is Joe's bedtime every night. He gets a new suit only when the old one is worn out. He smokes cigars, but nobody ever saw him buy one. He may not have the first nickel he ever earned—but there won't ever be a need for benefit baseball games to help little Joe Sewell.

Girl Pitcher Will Work Again Sunday

Miss Gertrude Brown of Rockford, 16-year-old sensational baseball pitcher, will make her second appearance at Independent field here Sunday afternoon in a uniform of the William B. Johnson shoe company team. Miss Brown will start the game on the mound for the Shoemakers, opposing the Rockford Colored Specials, a team which has been undefeated this year. Gene Lebre will be in the bullpen to take up the mound duties in the latter innings of the game.

Miss Brown made her first appearance here a few weeks ago pitching six innings for the Shoemakers against the Moline Boosters and made a very favorable impression before the large crowd witnessing the game. Manager Raymond Hanley has had many requests to book her for another attraction and announced today having secured her services for next Sunday's game on the home field.

HERE THEY COME! Proving King Football Soon Will Reign Again

These fast-moving young men are Columbia University's gridiron aspirants, pictured as they went through their first drill of the season at Baker Field, New York, the other day. But they're symbolic of thousands of other stout-muscled youngsters in all parts of the country who soon will don football togs again and put the pigskin game on the top rung of the sports ladder.

Hooks and Slides

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Two of the finest characters in baseball have suffered this year the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune. The men are Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Red Sox, and Judge Emil Fuchs, owner of the Braves.

The early season collapse of the Boston American League entry caused rust to collect on the Fenway Park turnstiles and spilled red ink all over the books. Only lately has the club, now managed by Marty McManus, shown signs of recovery. To tide him over in the emergency, Quinn was forced to peddle two of his pitchers, MacPayden and Moore to the Yankees for players and cash.

THE AWFUL TOIL—
In the same city, the Braves started out as if they meant to clinch the pennant by midseason. Led by Bill McKechnie and inspired by the indomitable Rabbit Maranville, the Braves staved in the thick of the fight. The club drew good crowds, profiting by the apathy toward the Red Sox. Then things began to happen to the Braves. The list of casualties reads like the toll of a fast train wreck.

Wesley Schumacher, regular outfielder, was injured and had to stay out of the game for two months. The team sorely missed the batting punch and fielding ability of the former Oregon Aggie star.

Two weeks ago Catcher Bill Hargrave suffered a broken ankle and is pretty sure to be out of the game for the rest of the season.

Bill Urbanski, shortstop, was out for two weeks because of illness and only recently has returned to the lineup.

Art Shires, after a promising start at first base was badly hurt and lost to the team.

LEE CO. SOFT BALL TOURNEY STARTS SUNDAY

Six Teams Will Get In Action at Dixon Airport Diamond

The Lee county soft ball tournament will open next Sunday afternoon at the Dixon Municipal airport, where a fine field is being laid out. Managers of the several teams met last evening and drew for the first games. Play will be started at 1:30 Sunday afternoon, three games being played with a 15 minute intermission between each contest. Six teams will make their appearance in the opening tourney and two others will later meet to complete the schedule.

The Ashton Cubs drew the Franklin Grove team in the opening game Sunday afternoon at 1:30. Beier's Loafers and the Dixon All-Stars will clash in the second game at 2:45. Wink's Specials and the Amboy Bafflers will cross bats in the third game to be called at 4 o'clock. Ward Miller was unanimously selected to officiate as umpire-in-chief and select his assistants for the championship series.

The following managers attended the meeting last evening and assisted in the drafting of rules which will govern the championship series: Floyd Schafer, Ashton Cubs; C. B. Tompkins, Franklin Grove; George Breeding, Beier's Loafers; M. Barefield, Dixon All-Stars; William Finch, Amboy Bafflers; and William McReynolds, Wink's Specials.

A playing field, which will be fenced off to prevent disturbing the players, is being laid out today at the airport, which will provide ample parking space for hundreds of cars. Managers of the six teams already entered are enthusiastic over the outlook and large crowds are predicted at all of the games. Two other teams are reported to have applied for championship series.

Robber crabs grow to an enormous size, often reaching a length of more than a foot. They occupy a curious niche in natural history, being in the midst of a change from sea life to that of land animal. They breathe dry air, but still have traces of gills, which are moistened with sea water frequently. In spite of the fact that they live on dry land after maturity, the robber crabs always go back to the sea to spawn, and the young spend their early life in the water.

COMPTON NEWS

JIMMIE AND UNCLE JOHN

By Leslie G. Archer
Compton—Monday was registration day at the Compton grades and high school with thirty-three students at the high school, and thirty-four in the lower rooms. The Freshmen class numbers ten, with the expectancy of increasing the enrollment to fifteen in the next day or so.

Prof. D. C. Thompson and Mrs. Dee D. Thompson began their twelfth year here in the local high school, with W. L. Ott, second year. In the grades Mrs. Ruth Holdren will teach the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades, and Mrs. Zella Swope the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th grades.

The Compton Oilers since the close of the league schedule, a week ago, have annexed two victories in their post-season games. Sunday the married men's team was turned back by a score of 17 to 10, and Labor day the Oilers won a 10 to 7 count over Troy Grove at Troy Grove.

Next Sunday Lee and Scarboro will begin their series of three games to decide the championship of the Community Baseball League, after a tie occurred at the completion of the official schedule. With the championship games getting under way at Lee next Sunday, the Oilers will be hosts to the Kakusha Parks, Mendota, to play a rubber game here.

H. M. Chaon submitted to a tonsil operation at the Compton hospital last Thursday.

Mrs. John S. Archer and daughters Leota and Helen spent the past week visiting in Chicago. The Compton Woman's club will not hold a meeting during September as the flower show held the third week in August takes the place of this meeting. Announcement for the month of October will be announced later.

A number of people from here took advantage of the Labor day holiday, and attended the baseball game at the Cubs park, Chicago, Sunday and Monday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. John Tribbett, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dishong, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Corwin, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Carnahan, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Carnahan, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bernardin.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bartsch, and son Arlo of Forrest Park, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Gilmore over Sunday and Labor day.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Archer have returned to their home here after making a brief stay with their son Clifford G. Archer and wife at Dixon.

Lewis Johnson and daughter, Mrs. Freda Jorgenson of Minneapolis, and Grand Forks, respectively, have left for their homes, after spending some time here with relatives and friends.

Wellington Chaon is back from an outing trip in northern Wisconsin.

I CAN'T SEE MUCH DIFFERENCE BETWEEN REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS, UNCLE JOHN, AND LIKE ROOSEVELT'S IDEA OF A TARIFF FOR REVENUE ONLY. I'VE HEARD PLENTY KICKING ABOUT OUR TARIFF. THEY SAY IT IS RESPONSIBLE FOR MUCH OF OUR TROUBLE.

WELL, JIMMIE, I'M GLAD TO SEE YOU THINKING FOR YOURSELF, BUT DON'T LET ANY-ONE STRING YOU WITH A LOT OF SWEET SOUNDING WORDS.

ONLY TWELVE YEARS AGO WE WERE OPERATING UNDER A SIMILAR TARIFF. THEY CALLED IT THE UNDERWOOD TARIFF. FACTORIES WERE SHUT DOWN EVERYWHERE. MORE PEOPLE WERE OUT OF WORK THAN EVER BEFORE. LET'S STEP OVER TO THE LIBRARY, I'LL SHOW YOU.

IS THAT RIGHT, UNCLE JOHN?—LET'S GO.

THERE IT IS, ALL OVER YOUR HOME TOWN PAPER. YOU WERE ONLY NINE YEARS OLD THEN. THE FIRST THING THE REPUBLICAN CONGRESS HAD TO DO AFTER IT GOT IN WAS TO CHANGE THAT TARIFF LAW IN ORDER TO PROTECT OUR LABORING MEN. THEN FACTORIES WERE IMMEDIATELY STARTED UP. JOBS WERE OPENED FOR OUR WORKING PEOPLE.

THAT'S SO, UNCLE JOHN, ON EVERY PAGE IT TELLS OF PEOPLE SUFFERING FROM THE AWFUL COSTS OF LIVING—FOOD, CLOTHES, EVERYTHING.

I'VE CERTAINLY HAD MY EYES OPENED. MOST OF THE FELLOWS DON'T KNOW ABOUT THE TARIFF. THEY BELIEVE A LOT OF THIS CAMPAIGN STUFF. I'M CERTAINLY GOING TO TELL THEM, AND I'M NOT GOING TO BE SO YOUNG AND EASY AGAIN.

THAT'S A GOOD SLOGAN, JIMMIE. DON'T BE YOUNG. FIND OUT FOR YOURSELF! READ HISTORY!

BRITISH SMASH GERMAN LINE

On Sept. 8, 1918, British forces on the Somme sector continued their hammering at the highly fortified German positions and made important gains toward St. Quentin and Laon, taking Villeveque and the greater part of Havincourt wood.

Many positions gained during the day were well within the old Hindenburg line. The British had reached the old German line of March 21 on nearly their entire front. It was from these positions that the great German drive, which almost succeeded in smashing the British army, was launched.

French troops took Hamel and several other villages, but reported no such sweeping gains as they had made during the earlier days of the month.

Americans advanced northward on the Alsace sector, fighting their way through highly fortified positions.

If you stand a great deal you will find that the wonderful foot powder will give you much comfort.
